SMART Learning has helped me stimulate parts of my brain that have been unexplored before.

As a thinker, I can now think of better ways to win an argument than shouting, thinking beyond the obvious and much more. It has let me think of things faster and better. All in all, SMART Learning has helped me think much better.

As a speaker, SMART Learning has helped me speak in a much more mature and sophisticated way. I now justify my opinions when I am talking. I also speak in full and complete sentences now. When other people are speaking, I listen to their opinions patiently and respect their ideas. I no longer say that their ideas are wrong.

SMART Learning has also helped my reading skills develop. I can now really go in the story and put myself in the character's shoes. Even when reading non-fiction, I can understand the facts way better. I can now go beyond the obvious when I am reading, which I could never do.
